Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Theme/Call To Worship

The readings for the Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time remind us that we are invited to the feast, the kingdom of heaven, and that we have to be ready to respond when that invitation comes.

Introduction To The Word

Isaiah 25:6-10a: We hear in the first reading from Isaiah the long-standing prophetic tradition of God's promise to "provide for all peoples a feast of juicy, rich food and pure, choice wines." In the telling of the parable of the wedding feast, Jesus may well have had in mind Isaiah's prophetic words spoken nearly eight hundred years earlier to the ancient Israelites in the southern kingdom of Judah.

Philippians 4:12-14, 19-20: In the second reading, we hear Paul's concluding remarks to his beloved Christian community in the city of Philippi. In these remarks, he reveals "the secret" to his success both in times of hunger and in times of abundance: "I can do all things in him who strengthens me."

Matthew 22:1-14: In the Gospel reading for today we hear a parable from Jesus comparing the kingdom of heaven to a wedding feast. Just as the parables of the past two Sundays, Jesus once again directs this address to the religious leaders of Jerusalem. In telling this parable, Jesus communicates two important messages about the kingdom of heaven. First, the invitation to enter the kingdom of heaven is radically inclusive: "Invite to the feast whomever you find. The servants...gathered all they found, bad and good alike." The second important message is that all are held equally to the same standard, good and bad alike, Jew and Gentile alike in the kingdom of heaven.

St. Thomas More Play Group (STMPG)

We are pleased to report that the St. Thomas More Play Group (STMPG) has agreed to grant a preference in admission for children of parishioners. So that the program will run smoothly and fairly, those applicants seeking the preference will be required to submit to the STMPG a letter from Fr. Madigan that will attest that they are active parishioners of St. Thomas More-Our Lady of Good Counsel.

World Mission Sunday Oct. 22nd

While most of us will never be in a position to travel the world spreading the Gospel message, our Catholic identity, given in baptism, calls each of us to be missionaries. This call we can answer by supporting with our prayers and contributions those who do so in the name of the Church Universal. Next Sunday, we celebrate World Mission Sunday to raise an awareness of the needs of our missionaries and to afford us an opportunity to make a charitable donation.

With thanks and prayerful best wishes,
I am, Faithfully in Christ,
Timothy M. Cardinal Dolan
Archbishop of New York

The Great War and Catholic Memory

One hundred years ago, America entered the First World War. As thousands of Americans enlisted, Catholic priests also answered their country's call, tending to the spiritual and emotional well-being of the soldiers.

The Great War and Catholic Memory exhibit at the Archives of the Archdiocese of New York explores how clergy, religious and ordinary New York Catholics, hear and on the front, dealt with the challenges of the first "total mobilization" war.

Date and Time:

Saturday, October 21st 1pm to 4pm

At 2pm, Vivian Davis of the Bronx County Historical Society will speak about World War I and its impact on those hear and on the front.

Location:

Archives of the Archdiocese of New York

Child Safety

The Archdiocese of New York is committed to doing all that it can to protect young children and young people from sexual abuse. As part of that effort, we periodically reach out to the Catholic community to advise them whom they may contact and what steps they can take if they have suffered abuse by someone representing the Catholic Church.

Anyone who needs to report an alleged incident of sexual abuse of a minor by a priest, deacon, religious or lay person serving in the Archdiocese of New York is asked to contact Sr Eileen Clifford, OP at 212-371-1000 X 2949 or Deacon George J. Coppola at 917-861-1762. Both may also be reached via email at victimassistance@archny.org.

Information can also be found on the Archdiocesan website, www.archny.org.

In keeping with the Archdiocesan policy regarding sexual abuse of minors, this information is provided to ensure that our children remain safe and secure.
