Second Sunday of Ordinary Time

Theme/Call To Worship

The readings for the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time center on the theme of call and today's readings offer us an important reminder to listen for the call of the Lord in our lives, whatever form it takes.

Introduction To The Word

1 Samuel 3:3b-10, 19: The first reading is from the First Book of Samuel. The prophet and judge, Samuel, is an important figure in the history of Israel. The Lord's call of Samuel, on the surface, seems strange. It is only after Samuel seeks Eli's advice, answering the Lord not with, "Here I am," but rather with, "Speak, for your servant is listening," that a connection is made between Samuel and the Lord. Samuel is taught early on that answering God's call involves seeking counsel from the wise and learning to listen.

1 Corinthians 6:13c-15a, 17-20: In the second reading, we hear from Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians. Paul warns the Corinthian Christians to avoid the sin of immorality. This, too, is a Christian call of sorts—to treat your physical body as a temple of the Lord.

John 1:35-42: The Gospel reading is John's account of the call of the first disciples. One of the interesting features of John's call narrative is that in the call of the first disciples we hear the first words of Jesus in the Gospel of John: "What are you looking for?" (1:38). In the Johannine version of the call, we learn that Andrew was originally a disciple of John the Baptist, and that he is the first called by Jesus. It is then Andrew who introduces his brother Simon (Peter) to Jesus. But Peter's future leadership role is alluded to right away as Jesus changes Simon's name to Cephas. In Aramaic (Jesus' native language), the name Kephas is translated as "the Rock."

Michelangelo The Artist

"The master of sculpture and painting is not a saint but serves as the privileged representative of the creative potential engendered by the Catholic Faith. The Church professes that beauty is a route of access to God, and through humanity's creative artistry we glimpse the power and glory of the Lord.

Michelangelo proves that the sensual, the artistic, and the beautiful can be a vehicle to the spiritual."

FREE SEMINAR ON THE IMPORTANCE OF A WILL, ESTATE PLANNING, HEALTH CARE PROXIES, POWER OF ATTORNEY, LIVING TRUSTS AND PROBATE.

Writing a will isn't the most pleasant of tasks. That might explain why so many adults avoid this cornerstone of estate planning. According to an AARP survey, 2 out of 5 Americans over the age of 45 don't have a will. But creating a will is one of the most critical things you can do for your loved ones. Putting your wishes on paper helps your heirs avoid unnecessary hassles, and you gain the peace of mind knowing that a life's worth of possessions will end up in the right hands.

What is a Will? What happens if I die without a Will? What is a Health Care Proxy or a Power of Attorney? Who should I name as my executor? What if there are minor children or grandchildren? How often does a Will need to be updated?

Please join us for a free tutorial to answer these and other questions for you.

Dr. Deogratias Niyizonkiza and his wife, Cathryn Christensen will speak on Thursday, February 15th at 7pm in the Rochester Room of St. Thomas More.

Dr. "Deo" is an American citizen, born in rural Burundi, where he attended grade school and part of medical school. He left the country during the catastrophic war that lasted more than a decade. Deo survived not only this man-made tragedy and poverty but also homelessness in New York City. While in New York, working, but homeless, he was a grocery delivery person who happened to make a delivery to Saint Thomas More, where he was greeted by Sharon McKenna, our church sacristan. Sharon recognized his needs and connected him with a family who fostered him. Sharon encouraged his dreams all along the way. He eventually enrolled at Columbia University, where he received a bachelor's degree in biochemistry and philosophy. After graduating from Columbia, he attended the Harvard School of Public Health, where he met Dr. Paul Farmer and began working at the medical nonprofit organization Partners In Health. He left Partners In Health to continue his medical education at Dartmouth Medical School. In 2005, Deo traveled back to Burundi. There, in the remote village of Kigutu, he established Village Health Works, with the goal of creating a model healthcare system. Village Health Works opened in December 2007; its main building is The Sharon McKenna Community Health Center.

Cathryn Christensen is a Family Physician and the Burundi Clinical Programs Director of Village Health Works. She completed her medical training at Harvard Medical School and was chief resident of the Santa Rosa-UCSF Family Medicine. Her clinical and public health work focuses on community-based care models in the United States. Recent research with the Village Health Works has explored post-conflict health care delivery. Deo and Cathryn's success in building a community-driven health and development organization is unprecedented.

We are honored to have them speak at Saint Thomas More.
